Evolution Trial May Not Be Heard At Dayton

INJUNCTION BEING SOUGHT BY DEFENSE ATTORNEYS TODAY

Darrow Says Matter Is To Be Considered In Seriousness

SUNDAY ASKED TO FIGHT SCOPES

Defense May Postpone Trial, Indicates New York Dispatches

(Associated Press)
NEW YORK, July 3—While Dayton Tenn., is making preparations to handle the crowds at the forthcoming trial of John T. Scopes there is a possibility that the trial will not be held in Dayton at all.

Council for the defense at a conference here are reported to have agreed to seek indefinite postponement and to seek an injunction in Knoxville to carry the trial into federal court.

Instead of marshalling an array a week from today defense councils will seek today to prove that the law is unconstitutional.

Reports of the sudden change of plans were made after a secret conference of John R. Neill, Bainbridge Colby, Dudley Malone, Arthur Hayes and Clarence Darrow. The lawyers declined to reveal any strategic move.

NEW YORK, July 3—Council for the defense in the Scopes case announced today that a temporary injunction against the enforcement of the Tennessee evolution law will be sought.

CHICAGO, July 3—Definite announcement was made here today by Clarence Darrow, that the Scopes trial set for hearing at Dayton, Tenn., will be taken into federal court by the council for the defense. Two complaints will be filed in the federal court determined upon by Dr. Neill, said Mr. Darrow. One will be filed by Scopes and the other by a property holder yet not determined upon. The complaint will attempt to restrain from the trial of Scopes the sensational aspect.

Two major considerations are involved in the proposed step one to obtain short cut to determine the constitutionality of the law and the other to remove the sensational element of the case. It is also desired to bring home to the people the seriousness of the trial.

"This is an increasingly serious matter," said Mr. Darrow.

Tennessee is not the only state that has this law. It is in effect in Oklahoma and South Carolina and it is intended for Cal., Kan., Ky., Fla., and it is supported by a strong element.

The Dayton trial has been treated with levity, but it is not a matter for joking.

Should the federal judge grant the injunction the case will lose all its appeal of the great drama and its many sensational aspects. Instead the lawyers would argue the matter of the Tennessee law.

A federal decision would have far more power in determining the status in other states," said Mr. Darrow, "than would a decision rendered by the Tennessee supreme court. It would be quicker."

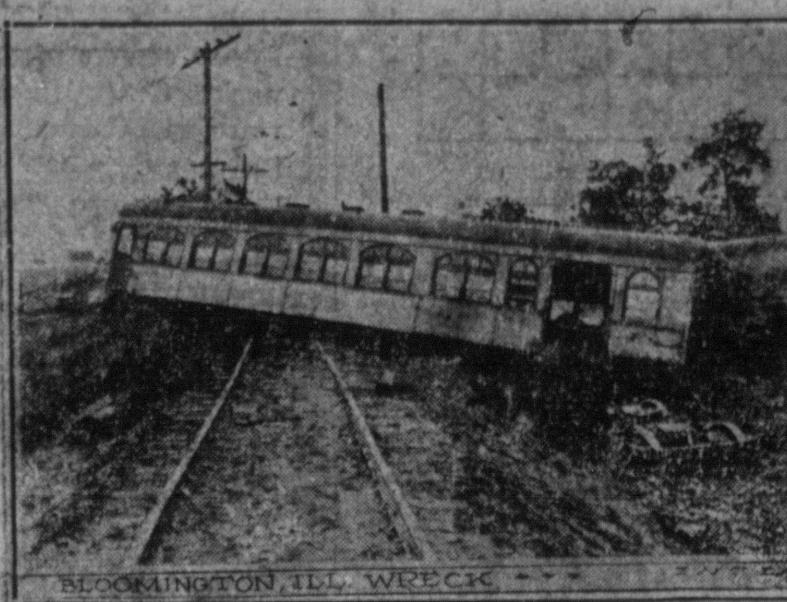

LOUISVILLE, July 3—The Louisville Courier today said Walter White superintendent of schools at Dayton has invited the Rev. William A. Sunday, evangelist to assist in the prosecution of John T. Scopes.

The newspaper says its informant was Bob Matthews, Mr. Sunday's secretary at Carrollton, Tenn., Mr. Sunday is at his summer home at Goodridge, Ore.

LIQUOR SEIZURES MOUNT AT MOBILE

Nearly $1,000,000 Of Liquor Cargo Is Taken In Week

(Associated Press)

MOBILE, July 3.—The coast guard cutter Comanche is en route to Mobile with a schooner and two motor boats captured in the gulf with 2,000 cases of liquor aboard, according to a wire received here today.

No details of the seizure were given and the identity of the schooner was not made known in the message which asked officials to make plans for the storage of the capture.

The liquor captured has an estimated value of $240,000 bringing the total value of captures in the last ten days to approximately $1,000,000.

The schooner Marion Adams and six small boats were taken last week with 6,000 cases of fine liquors. Twenty-three men arrested with the schooner were held under bond. Special warehouses have been leased and armed deputies placed in charge.

Custom officials later gave the names of the vessel as the "Agnes Louise," British, the home port was not given in the dispatch.

Plans were underway to remove the contraband liquor on arrival of the coast guard cutter and schooner.

QUIET WILL PREVAIL IN OBSERVANCE OF NATIONAL HOLIDAY

Morgan County To Revert To An Old-Fashioned Day

GROTTO CLUB TO HAVE ENTIRE DAY

Baseball, Golf And Private Affairs To Interest People

Indications today point to no stirring celebration of the Fourth of July locally. Organizations and clubs of the cities will have their celebrations and patriotic ceremonies as a unit, the old fashioned mass entertainment for the holiday being abandoned within this immediate vicinity. Picnics, barbecues, a single baseball game, and a few talks will be the order of the day for Albany-Decatur folk.

From the surrounding county there is talk of an old fashioned July 4 observance. Hartsville, Falkville, Somerville, Danville and to the north, Athens, have issued invitations to the people over the county to attend their celebrations of the day. The smaller cities and towns of the Tennessee Valley will observe in true, old fashioned American style. Choice foods have been prepared, drink stands are much in evidence, decorated establishments, homes, and booths on the grounds in these respective communities point to the interest that is being manifested.

They will observe as in the years of the past with competent speakers arousing the patriotic blood of the people and encouraging them to remember the principles of the American nation.

Locally, the Albany-Decatur Grotto club will enjoy an all day picnic and barbecue at picturesque San Souci cave. Only members of the organization and their families will enjoy the interesting program that has been arranged.

It is probable that a great many interested in the completion of the project will journey to the Tri-Cities from Albany-Decatur and the surrounding section to hear the proceedings of the meeting.

At Malone Park it is understood, the Ralston Independents will battle the Hartsville Independents at 10 o'clock. The Ralston team has been greatly strengthened, having been drawn from the four clubs of the city league. The two teams return to Hartsville in the afternoon to engage in the night cap affair on the twin bill.

For weeks the active members of the Valley Country club have been preparing to arise early and enter the tournament that has become an annual affair. Score cards have been turned in regularly and handicaps will be provided for the dubs who find it still a difficult matter to crash the insignificant spheroid down the center of the fairway.

The cities will be colorful with the patriotic display of national colors, but it is the general belief that the Fourth, this year, will be the same occasion that is looked upon as a national menace by the manufacturers of combustibles.

A feature of the meetings has been the musical programs that have been under the direction of G. E. McCullough and C. L. Shook. Rev. Edwards attributed much of the success of the services to the work of these leaders.

There will be no issue of The Daily on the Fourth. It has been the custom of the paper in past years to observe the national day as a holiday and with the Friday issue there will be no further publication until Monday.

The Daily management wish the citizens of this section a happy occasion, an occasion upon which they may pause, for the moment, and consider the countless blessings that have been given this nation in 149 years of existence.

OFFICIAL CALL IS ISSUED FOR MEET AT FLORENCE, 9TH

Bridge Leaders See No Opposition To Present Site

ELLIOTT THINKS ROAD IS CLEAR

Mere Formality Is The Opinion Of The Majority

Bridge leaders declared today that the call issued by C. A. D. Young, assistant engineer at Wilson Dam, Florence, Ala., by order of H. H. Houk of the state highway commission, has only an aspect of formality and that there will probably be no opposition expressed at the meeting July 9.

C. B. Elliott who is greatly interested in the developments prior to the beginning of actual construction declared today that there would be no opposition to the location of the project at the present determined site. Mr. Elliott gave this information following a conference with officials of the Tennessee Navigation company, with headquarters at Chattanooga.

Other bridge advocates declared that the hearing was given just as other witnesses are heard before the commissions of the state either in favor or in protest of proposed action.

The following notification has been received from Assistant Engineer Young:

Public Hearing: A public hearing will be held at the U. S. Engineer Office, Wilson Dam, Florence, Ala., at 3:00 p. m., July 9, 1925, for purpose of giving navigation interests and general public an opportunity to be heard in matter of application of Alabama State Highway Commission for authority to construct a highway bridge across the Tennessee River at Albany-Decatur, Ala.

It is probable that a great many interested in the completion of the project will journey to the Tri-Cities from Albany-Decatur and the surrounding section to hear the proceedings of the meeting.

The evangelistic campaign of the First Christian church, being held at the tent on Fourth Avenue and Gordon Drive, will be brought to a close Sunday evening, according to Rev. Noble R. Edwards, who has been conducting the campaign.

Rev. Edwards expressed himself as being pleased at the success of the meetings that have been held during the past two weeks. He declared today that a great many additions have been made to the church and thanked the people of his church and other denominations for attending so loyally.

A feature of the meetings has been the musical programs that have been under the direction of G. E. McCullough and C. L. Shook. Rev. Edwards attributed much of the success of the services to the work of these leaders.

Hardware firms agree to close

It was learned today that the hardware firms of Albany have agreed to close all day Saturday in observance of the national holiday. It is understood that, while no definite arrangement has been made among the hardware dealers in Decatur, the majority will not be open Saturday.

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—Ellen and Joe Latimer, orphans, without means, make their home with their Aunt Elsie, at Port Washington, small New York town. Ellen, having no money to pay her expenses, being paid by Mrs. Sewell, her childhood friend of her mother. Mrs. Rose invites Ellen to a Thanksgiving house party, and the girl is delighted.

CHAPTER II.—On the way from the station to Mrs. Rose's Ellen rides with a remarkably attractive young woman and a much older man. She takes them for father and daughter, but they are introduced as Mr. and Mrs. Josselyn. Ellen does not fit in with the younger members of the party, and is miserable.

CHAPTER III.—Leaving for her home next morning, Ellen meets Gibbs Josselyn, son of her fellow guest. He has disapproved of his father's wed ding and is suspicious of his wife with the couple. Declining to stay at Mrs. Rose's, Gibbs drives Ellen to the station. They miss the train and Gibbs undertakes to drive the girl to Port Washington, where they may be wrecked. Ellen is hurt, but it is not thought to be serious, and she and Gibbs part. He has been attracted by the girl, and she by him.

CHAPTER IV.—Ellen's injury proves to be very bad for sometime she is an invalid. Recovered, she is taking part in the town's Memorial Day festivities when Gibbs Josselyn, on a boating trip with a friend, George Lathrop, meets her again. The feeling of mutual attraction has strengthened since they parted. They leave Port Washington man and wife.

CHAPTER V.—Nearly seven years later Gibbs and Ellen Josselyn, with their son, Tommy, are now established in France to New York. They are welcomed by Josselyn Senior, and his beautiful wife, Lillian, the old ill-fated forgotten.

CHAPTER VI.—Gibbs and Ellen make their home with the elder Josselyns, at Wheatley Hills, just outside New York. Gibbs idles, ostensibly looking for a studio in which to resume his portrait painting. And Ellen is vaguely disturbed. She begins to perceive that her stepmother is attracted by his youthful stepmother's beauty. Joe Latimer, Gibbs' brother, is tentatively engaged to marry Harriet, George Lathrop's daughter.

CHAPTER VII.—Gibbs secures a studio, taking Lillian with him when he engages it, and the rift between the younger Josselyns widens. Gibbs' infatuation for his stepmother becoming greater. On the other hand, more admiration than anything serious, Joe concedes to Ellen that he has wronged a girl at Port Washington and feels he should marry her, giving up Harriet Lathrop, whom he believes he loves.

CHAPTER VIII.—On a visit to New York Gibbs and Lillian find themselves unable to return to Wheatley Hills that night, heavy snow having made the roads impassable. Josselyn Senior finds that Lillian is not with the friends she ostensibly went to visit. Desperate, Ellen tells her father-in-law of her suspicion that Lillian and Gibbs are together. Next day Ellen and Josselyn Senior motor to the city and find the pair, as Ellen had foretold, at the studio.

CHAPTER IX.—Gibbs explains that he is pursuing Lillian's interests, she intending it to be a birthday surprise to her husband. The explanation is outwardly accepted, but neither Josselyn Senior nor Ellen are satisfied, the elder believing himself dishonored by his own son. Gibbs is innocent of wrongdoing. He discovers that Lillian has spent the night, unchaperoned, at the house of a bachelor friend, Lindsay Pepper, and he is bitterly disillusioned.

CHAPTER X.—Ellen finds her maid, Lizzie, contemplating suicide. Comforting her, Ellen learns that it is she whom Joe has wronged. Ellen promises the girl that Joe shall marry her. Josselyn Senior, however, and Lindsay Pepper's mother had been out of town the night Lillian was in New York. Believing the worst, he accuses Gibbs of dishonoring him. After bitter quarrel, Josselyn Senior strikes his son, ordering him from the house. Gibbs leaves, returning early next day to take Ellen and Tommy away.

CHAPTER XI.—The elder Josselyn is found dead in his study under circumstances which point to murder.

You had not suspected her attachment to your brother?"

"No, sir. She had been my aunt's helper, and it began then."

Ellen went on with her recital.

"I am sure she did not. She has told you it was a—a quarrel with her fiancé—with my brother, in fact, that made her desperate. I sent for my brother, and they were—were reconciled."

"I know she did not. We were talking until late—until after ten o'clock, and when she went back to the nursery she left the door open. She spoke to me again while she was brushing her hair. And at eleven I went to look at my son and I saw her asleep."

PIG IRON SLUMPS

DURING PAST WEEK

Florida Boom Is Now
Being Felt In This State

(Associated Press)

BIRMINGHAM Ala., July 3.—

With another drop in the price of pig iron from $20 to $19 per ton during the week just closed, foundry men anticipate an unusually heavy demand for their product in the second half of the year as ushered in. The new price is three dollars under the quotation which prevailed for weeks while producers held firm.

With the third quarter of the year starting July 1 pig iron production is expected to equal that of the first quarter and will probably exceed the second quarter.

The building boom in Florida has resulted in more orders being placed with the Alabama fabricating plants.

Hotels under construction during the summer months are being hastened to completion for the winter trade. The structural material is being ordered manufactured in the Alabama mills, the nearest source to the Florida buyers. Orders are now ahead to keep the fabricating plants busy for most of the summer weeks.

Two blast furnaces are scheduled to shut down, one for repairs and the other for market adjustment purposes. The make of basic metal, however, is not to be disturbed since the need for steel is still strong.

The surplus stock of pig iron is reported to be lower in the yards of two companies than at any time in several months.

The Tennessee Coal, Iron & Railroad Company reports a steady increase in its export business, according to President Farrell of the United States Steel Corporation, who made a recent visit to the Birmingham district. Mr. Farrell's observations in part were as follows:

"There has been a gradual and satisfactory growth in the export business of the Tennessee company. Just now the International Railway of Central America is building its line through Costa Rica and Salvador with Alabama rails. The International Railway of Central America is one of the most important links in the great railway system which will make it possible to travel all rail from the United States to Buenos Aires, Argentina, through Mexico, Central America, Panama, and thence down the east coast of South America.

"A South American a Colombian, once told me that the letters—"T. C. I. Co." were understood in his country to mean "travel comfortably in Colombia."

Mr. Farrell cited other instances of the growing importance of the export business of the Tennessee company, and the same rule is known to apply to a number of other products produced by Alabama steel and iron manufacturers.

Pressure pipe sales continue good but the soil pipe market is reported dull during the last week.

The coke market is showing steadiness, the independent producers having maintained production and quotations remain around five dollars.

Coal sales for June have been twenty per cent better than normal, while July sales are expected to amount to twenty per cent above the figures reported for the month just closed.

Portland cement demand is reported stronger than for several months.

The Phoenix Portland Cement Company is ready with its new kiln which will increase the production by 500,000 barrels per annum. All cement in Alabama are reported to be

Railroads report a good increase in the volume of business furnished by the full-time production in the cement industry.

The main reasons for the continued activity in the cement industry are the steady road building program being conducted over the South and the increased amount of building.

NOW PACKARD PRESENTS—

New ease of routine care

Greater motoring comforts

EVERY five years or so it has been Packard's privilege to make some revolutionary advance for others to follow.

Now, having exhausted present possibilities in power and smoothness, Packard presents improvements of an entirely new nature:

1—New ease of routine care

The thousands who have taken delivery of new Packard Six and Eight cars during the past few weeks have found the Motor Oil Rectifier and the Chassis Pressure Lubricator, a combination not to be had in any other motor car in all the world.

They have found that motor oil life has been multiplied by five; that they need to change oil but four or five times a year. They have found that they may lubricate the chassis in less than one second of time, the pull of a plunger forcing oil to the 45 points requiring regular attention.

2—Greater motoring comforts

These new Packard owners have also found greater motoring comforts; notably an ease of steering and wider and even more luxurious enclosed bodies.

For example, the enclosed models of the Packard Eight have the widest and roomiest bodies offered on any motor car.

They have found that the utmost in beauty, distinction and comfort is now combined with an easy ability at least to double the mileage life of their Packard cars.

And Packard has found that now, more than ever, Packard should say—

Ask the man who owns one.

Packard Six and Packard Eight both are furnished in ten body types. Packard Six enclosed cars have been reduced by an average of $750—and now sell at the same level as the open cars.

12 Years Ago From The Daily of TODAY

July 3, 1913

Four men narrowly escaped death in the burning of the Hitt Lumber company planer at Falkville today.

The Decaturs extended to the people of Morgan County a most cordial invitation to spend the day with them tomorrow.

Atlee Hoff and Harry Wyatt left today for a fishing trip on the Gulf.

E. W. Bussey, S. W. Sandlin, George Russell and L. W. Norton have been named among the judges for the Fourth of July competition.

Mrs. J. W. Crow is convalescent after a short illness.

A party of tourists passed through the Decaturs today in two large automobiles.

Saturday is the Fourth of July—we merely informed you to be obliging.

The only difficult problem to solve in the vacation question is how to keep from coming back to work when the two weeks freedom is at an end.

Lots of people have Fourth of July celebrations at their homes every day, judging from the sounds, the war like spirit seems to prevail. Moral, keep your windows closed even in hot weather.

KILBY, BANKHEAD OR BLACK?

Alabama's political horizon will soon be recognized as a blazing cauldron of conflicting interests. At the present time three of the states notables have offered themselves as candidates to take the seat that will be left vacant by Senator Underwood when his present term has expired. Former Governor Thomas E. Kilby of Anniston, Judge Hugo Black of Birmingham and John H. Bankhead, Jr. of Jasper have announced their intention of entering the race that will be followed by great interest when the spring and summer of 1926 rolls around.

There will possibly be other candidates for the office before the official announcement period is closed, but we suggest that the playground is filled at this time. Alabama will experience considerable difficulty in picking the best of these three men. All of them recognized leaders, capable, with splendid records, it seems that Underwood will not give his place over to an incompetent when he retires from the arena that he has known so well for the past thirty years.

CLUBS GET BUSY ON HEALTH CONDITIONS

Civic clubs in Albany-Decatur have heard the call of the health unit of this county and it is safe to say that they will not have to be taught the merits of the cause. They have studied the situation carefully and enter the campaign knowing that there is no alternative but to raise the necessary amount if the health of the communities and the county in general, is to be preserved.

The health department announced Thursday that the fight will come to an end on the 15th of the present month unless additional funds are provided. Seizing time by the forelock, the Mother's Club of these cities immediately settled upon a plan for action. Saturday, July 11, has been set as Tag Day for Albany-Decatur, and there is little reason to believe that the club will fall down in their effort to raise substantial part of the $600 quota. The Kiwanis club will undoubtedly assist the former organization with the result that at the end of the drive, we feel that we may safely predict, that the anti-mosquito-malaria campaign will be carried to a successful end.

People, give to this cause when you are approached. A dollar spent now as a safeguard, may prove the saving of many dollars for sick bills later on in the year. This is not a call from the health department itself that you are asked to answer, it is a call from your neighbors, your friends, your relatives. Respond, let's place the health of our cities and our counties on the par with the best in the nation.

DAILY TIMES OFFERS ADVICE

Responding to an editorial paragraph that appeared several days ago in the Daily, the Huntsville Daily Times offers a bit of fatherly advice. The paragraph as credited to the Daily read:

Huntsville is soon to have a new hospital. Huntsville is to spend in the neighborhood of $150,000 for hospital. Albany-Decatur needs additional equipment for her institution of mercy. What are we going to do?

The editor answers the question that we have in this manner: "It is under way."

his "ABC's" he is still unable to spell. We need a little more enlightenment on the subject. It is the easiest matter in the world to tell the other fellow to get out and do it, but he might need some instruction to start to work on. The Times advice is well meant and sent to us in a spirit of unity and friendliness, but we observe the "Shake-Well Before Using" directions before swallowing the pill of progressiveness. Some people, like some cities, choke when they bite off more than they can chew. What we want now is additional equipment and an additional hospital wing, we are not asking for a new hospital. Tell us how it is done Mr. Pierce, we will be glad to follow your instructions if found to be applicable to local conditions.

MAY A JUDGE FALL ASLEEP WHILE ON DUTY? HOW CAN HE HELP IT?

May a judge fall asleep when he is about his judicial duties is the issue that is now harassing the German courts. As usual the technically, is the basis for the settlement of the question. Frankly we cannot see how the judge can remain awake with the humdrum, age old questions of attorneys falling about his ears, but here is how the Tuscaloosa News sees it:

"May a judge fall asleep on the bench during the progress of a trial? A celebrated case has arisen in Germany concerning a judge caught napping. Being carried to the supreme court at Leipzig, it results in the notable decision that a little snooze now and then is permissible.

Opinion about that decision differs, and argument rages. On the whole, the anti-sleepers, including a large part of the German bar, seem to have the better of it. But one prominent Berlin jurist, coming to the defense of the somnolent judge and his sympathetic brethren of the supreme court, says:

"One cannot expect a judge to give his undivided attention to the proceedings. He is obliged to sign documents, to receive messages and to answer numerous whispered questions during the trial. But if it is positively proved that he has been asleep the case becomes prohibitive, for sleep signifies loss of consciousness and also irresponsibility."

Here is a fine legal distinction. The judge may nod, and perhaps let out a casual snore now and then, but he must not really fall asleep and stay so while the court is in session.

Even downright slumber, however, might be permissible in many an American courtroom, while lawyers scrap interminably over technical and unimportant points and interrupt testimony with an incessant barrage of "I object."

In the first place we cannot see the joys of his Honor's duties. No matter what the position may offer from a monetary standpoint, life is entirely too short to be forced to sit rigidly all day long and listen to the virtues of a man on the one side and the criminal traits of the same man being brought out by the prosecution on the other side.

We stand in favor of allowing the judge his nap if he can catch a snooze with the stir of the courtroom and his nostrils are not offended to any great extent by the odors arising from a sweltering crowd, some of whom have never known that cleanliness is next to Godliness.

Yes, by all means, let his majesty sleep. Poor fellows, had they known the responsibilities attached to their official capacities before they entered office, it is doubtful if they would have relinquished their former pursuits.

A COMPARISON OF THE SPIRIT OF 1776 WITH THE SPIRIT OF 1925

This nation of ours, may God continue the gloriousness of it, 149 years ago was proclaimed to the world as a band of revolutionaries attempting to free itself from the right yoke of a highly respected and honorable nation. Thus was the origin of our great and upright country regarded by the British empire.

Somehow the rest of the world didn't feel toward that band of men, who gathered to proclaim their rights and their religious liberties, as England felt. Had it not been for the aid that was given from other European nations, it is doubtful that America would have succeeded in carrying out those principles of democracy in government that has made her the nation of nations that she is today.

The spirit of the thing, the spirit of 1776 is held to have been the principal reason that America battled through years of warfare, lean years that at times even Washington became disheartened and came near giving the cause up as a lost one, but the spirit of Americanism was too firmly entrenched in the souls of those suffering revolutionaries and we have today as a result, a nation that is feared, a nation that is known to be just, a nation that may be found on the right. Seeking tribute from none asking no territorial gain, wishing to harm no other nation on the face of the globe. America asks only that the sacred basis upon which this government and this people is founded, be preserved.

In 149 years of glories and of triumphs, of defeats and sorrows, this great nation of ours has not changed so greatly. Of course styles have changed, homespun have given way to the tailor made, well groomed man of today, but place him in another country and he is regarded as a free thinker, a man who dares to defy any nationality on earth, a man who enjoys his freedom and his rights and a man who will not give way in the face of obstacles. We enjoy more literary works than did the people of that past memorable era, but the Bible remains as the worlds best seller, even as the Holy Book was a rule and guide during that long past period. We enjoy the luxuries of automobiles, but we gather together for our rides and our trips even as that people swung down the road in the cart. Men give leeway to their tempers in this day and time and grow profane, much to the horror of the calamity howlers who constantly preach that the world is going to the devil, but memoirs of a soldier who fought under the leadership of General Washington explain the occasion upon which that military genius took Harry Lee to task and the soldier does not hesitate in saying that Washington used a flow of profanity such as would astonish printers and teamsters.

The spirit of the nation of that period is the spirit of the nation of today. America is in no rut, politically, financially, religiously, or in any other way. America stands just as ready today to do honor to her statesmen and her government as she did at that time. America does not fear to proclaim her principles to the remainder of the world. Remove the veneer of the American of today, scratch the surface in other words, and you have the American of the knee breeches, stockings, big-buckled shoes and cockade.

Americans are just as proud to proclaim the meaning of the Fourth of July today as they were at old Flanuel Hall on that July Fourth, 149 years ago, when the ancient bell was sending forth peals of independence to the world.

America, the land of political turmoil, the land of intrigue, the melting pot of the earth, the land of wasters and spendthrifts with disregard for the teachings of religious faiths, is a mere myth. Call upon America to give proof and it will be discovered that the spirit of 1776 and the spirit of 1925 are the same. It is America for America attempt to crush the rights and

New York Letter

By Lucy Jeanne Price

NEW YORK, July 3.—Twenty years ago when Mr. and Mrs. Louis E. Mutruix were married, Mr. Mutruix said, as he had said often before, that the woman he married was going to have her honeymoon in Europe. It didn't seem practical to endeavor to buy steamship tickets at that time, and so the honeymoon was postponed. It has been steadily postponed ever since, until this week, when the husband and wife and twelve children sailed for the postponed honeymoon. There are two motor cars going with them, one small one and one bus, built to carry the dozen children without crowding. With no smaller machine leading the way the family will tour Europe. The youngest child is seven months old.

In all this progress and equality of sexes, one class has been neglected among womankind. The woman who is downtrodden and disregarded, according to Rose Kerry, who has been making pleas for an organization of her sister hoboies here in New York, at the meetings of the International Brotherhood Welfare Association. "There are lots of 'hoboies' along the Atlantic seaboard," she said, "and they should be organized." Miss Kerry did not say what they were to do with their organization when it was accomplished. Maybe each the housewives to improve the cooking they hand out to them along the way.

The Fifty-second Street Theatre is out of the general theatrical district and over close to a humble residential district on the outskirts of the Broadway zone. The kids of the neighborhood welcome it as a means of revenue and every night when the audience strolls out between the acts to get a bit of air or a smoke, they gather to do stunts. Of all colors, the small boys dance their jigs and sing songs, reaping a shower of pennies regularly.

We would not have supposed that the whipping post would ever be talked of as a revival for New York City but so in arms are the people over the increase of crimes of violence that two Y. M. C. A. officials here are demanding the lash as the only deterrent of crime. It seems considerably like the return to barbarity to most of us, even to contemplate it, but it is being given serious consideration by many, who see safety from thugs in no other measure.

There is an era of romance over a patch of land near Maspeth, Long Island, where a gypsy queen lies dying. Her life has been lived in the sun and the wind and she is dying there, too, with a hatchet to cover her. Her children have gathered from the whole Atlantic coast region to stay with her in her last hours and to sing for her, because she demands music constantly. In the midst of apparent coma,

MADE NEW MAN OUT OF HIM

Thought He Would Never Be Well Again Before He Used Herb Juice

"Several months ago I thought I would never be well again. Today I feel like a new man, thanks to the wonderful results I have had from Herb Juice, and I can certainly recommend this medicine to anyone," said Mr. Sam Massey of Doneillon, Tenn., when he called to see the Herb Juice man a few days ago. "Before I used your medicine," continued Mr. Massey, "I was in such a rundown condition, brought on by years of suffering by stomach trouble, that I had given up all hope of ever being well again. I also suffered a great deal with my kidneys and was badly constipated all the time. My whole system seemed to be full of poison, liver was sluggish, then to make matters worse, I began to suffer with rheumatism. I tried first one medicine, then another, but it was just the same—money spent for no relief.

"Then I was fortunate enough to hear about Herb Juice, which I want to say to you, is the greatest medicine I have ever used. In all I have now taken three bottles of Herb Juice and simply feel like a new man. My bowels act regularly, I eat all I want and never have any trouble with my stomach. My kidneys and liver are in good shape and I have gained several pounds in weight. I have also been relieved of rheumatic pains. Herb Juice has certainly proved its value to me and I can recommend it to anyone."

Herb Juice, the great medicine, that's accomplishing such great results in the way of relieving suffers is now being introduced in Albany by Cadell Drug Co.—Adv.

Mystery of Women's Uncertain Health Now Comes to Light

Increasing Growth of Malady Which Is Now Menacing Entire Sex Is Alarming.

"Women should be made to realize that those distressing ailments, such as headache, backache, nervousness, nausea, cramping and that twofold tired-and-worn-out feeling of melancholy and depression are the result, in nine out of ten cases of catarrhal inflammation of the generative organs," says a well known authority.

"It is important that they understand this and take some steps to rid themselves of this terrible malady because it has been proven that catarrh does not 'work itself out' of the system, as so many other diseases are commonly supposed, to do, it remains and continues to grow and spread, weakening muscles and nerves, destroying tissue and dissipating flesh, energy, vigor and vitality as long as women neglect themselves."

Many women are drifting slowly through daily neglect, into a condition which means more misery and pain from so-called "female disorders" and are headed surely toward the serious consequences of possible kidney or bladder troubles, which are so frequently the final outcome of the distressing symptoms of catarrh of the female generative organs.

Thousands of these heretofore hopeless women are now happy after finding quick and certain relief from their pains and suffering through the consistent use of St. Joseph's G. F. P., the wonderful medicine which quickly and easily overcomes and stamps out that dreaded enemy of women, the demon catarrh.—Adv.

CLEBURNE COUNTY FIGURES ARE GIVEN

Reports Show a Small Loss Over Period Of Five Years

(Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 3.—The preliminary announcement of the results of the 1925 farm census in Cleburne county, Alabama, which was released by the Department of Agriculture here today, shows that a comparatively small agricultural loss was experienced by this county in the five year period between the 1920 and the 1925 compilings.

Only 167 farms were lost in the period referred to above, the 1920 total shrinking from 2,235 to 2,038. The 1925 figure. Of the 2,038 farms still in operation at the time of the 1925 census, 1,976 were operated by white farmers and only 62 by negroes. The figures given in the 1920 census showed 2,149 white farmers and 86 negro. Farm owners dropped in numbers, from 1,218 to 1,081 and the figures compiled at the first of the current year show that there were no farm managers at the time of the last census taking as compared with 7 such managers in 1920.

The shrinkage in farm lands for the five years was 11,614 acres, the 1920 total showing 189,520 acres while the 1925 figure was 177,906. The total number of acres in farms in 1924, at January first was divided into three classifications: Crop land 53,947 acres; Pasture lands, 31,612 acres, and Woodland not pastured and all other lands, 92,347 acres.

In 1925, the value of farm lands and buildings in Cleburne county was set at $3,059,899. At the first of 1925 this value had shrunk to $2,721,056 the difference in the two figures being $338,843. This drop was all caused by the decline in the value of land in farms, as the farm buildings in the county advanced in value from $781,157 to $782,001. This advance was only $844, but it shows that the county is at least holding its own in country building. The drop in land values was $239,687.

There was a loss of 274 horses in the county, 235 mules and 1,376 cattle. At the time of the 1925 census, there were 646 horses as compared with 920 in 1920; 2,385 mules as compared with 2,620, and 4,728 cattle as compared with 6,104. The number of swine was cut by 2,878, the 1920 total being 5,921 and the 1925 total 3,043.

The staple crops lost rather heavily except the fruits, where an increase was shown. Corn production dropped from 465,423 bushels to 316,207, a loss of 149,216 bushels. Cotton showed a loss of 471 bales, the figures for 1920 and 1924 being 6,598 and 6,127 bales respectively.

Cleburne county's apple output for the year 1924 showed an amount almost double the crop raised in 1919. In 1924 there were 30,745 bushels reported as compared with the 1919 report of 15,971 bushels, an increase of 14,976 bushels.

The peach crop was tripled in the five years between the two census takings. In 1919 only 5,413 bushels featured in the compiling, while in 1924, 17,282 bushels were reported as the crop for the county. The difference in the two totals is 11,869 bushels.

BEREAN CLUB LUNCHEON

The Bereans enjoyed a most delightful banquet at the Valley Country Club on Thursday at one o'clock. At this time one half of the membership of the club were hostesses to the other half as the result of an attendance and loyalty contest conducted during the year. The club rooms were beautifully decorated with the Independence Day colors, red, white and blue flowers being used in profusion in blue vases. A three course menu was served in the dining room.

The chairman, Mrs. B. E. Preut, then called the "program in the following unique manner: 'We'd like to hear you tell today some funny things the children say' and for this she called on Mrs. James Duncan Hunter but the topic was of such wide interest that the different mothers and grandmothers added interesting bits. 'Describe some woman in the town, her nose, her hair, her dress and gown but do not give us her address neither her name and well, we'll guess.' This was responded to in poetry by Mrs. W. H. Ritter. 'Misery Lovers company, they say, so we'd like to hear you tell today, don't hesitate but just begin, of the worst scrap you ever were in' which Mrs. John W. Jones answered giving humorous account of her courtship. 'Your talent gives us much delight, we wish that you would please recite.' Mrs. R. E. Hewlett responded in her gracious manner. 'Tell some joke on yourself or friends but we hope you will have a pleasant end.' Mrs. C. C. Davison responded with a skit on herself. 'Because of her keen sense of humor and only in a spirit of fun and not in criticism of anyone absent or present, we'd like a short story full of fun. You are very gifted tell us one.' Mrs. Milton Harvey told it. 'If music hath charms we wish that today you'd prove it and something quite charming would play.' All were indeed charmed with Mrs. H. O. Troup's piano selection. 'You're put on the program to help along, will you give us much pleasure, then please sing us a song' and this request, directed to Mrs. R. M. McGlathery really added much pleasure.

After a most delightful afternoon spent bidding adieu the following toast was offered by their guests: 'Our congenial hostesses.' 'We wish our congenial hostesses great pleasure but may they be losers next year whatever the thermometer does register.'

The place cards were set for the following: Mrs. C. C. Davison, Mrs. Tuck of Georgia, Mrs. D. D. McGeehee, Mrs. W. W. Dinsmore, Mrs. W. B. Shaddock, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. C. K. Lide, Mrs. D. D. ## Got the Real Thing

"For five years I suffered stomach trouble and what the doctor called gall stone colic, and all nothing but an operation would do any good. A friend who had your medicine advised me to take it and I found it to be the real thing. It feels better than I have in eight and I am praising God for 'Wonderful Remedy.' It is a harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will cure or money refunded. Druggists—Adv."

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a boy in my teens and for the past month I have been going out with a girl whom I admire. She says that she likes me but everything I endeavor to tell her she insists that I do not.

Do you think that she refused me because she dislikes me, although she said she didn't?

WAVY HAIR: Demonstrations of affection between people who are not engaged to be married are improper, and the young lady's conduct is due to the fact that she wisely realized this. Your respect for her should increase because of this, and I suggest that you continue your friendship with her.

SHOULD THIS FRIENDSHIP CONTINUE? L. P.

L. P.: Although it is hardly advisable for you to cultivate the friendship of people who are much older than you, there is really no reason why you should discontinue your friendship with this young man. However, do not devote too much time to someone whose tastes and interests necessarily differ from yours. Meet your other friends, have a jolly good time, and you won't have any leisure in which to worry.

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE:

I am a girl sixteen years of age and greatly interested in a man about twenty-eight.

Should this friendship continue?

L. P.: It is hardly advisable for you to cultivate the friendship of people who are much older than you, there is really no reason why you should discontinue your friendship with this young man. However, do not devote too much time to someone whose tastes and interests necessarily differ from yours. ## Bucs Regain Lead In National Top; Senators Take Pair From Boston Sox

Pittsburgh galloped back into the position of command in the National league today while the Giants spent idle hours. Vic Aldridge started for the Bucs but gave way to Sheehan after the Reds had gathered a one run lead. The Bucs got busy in the sixth inning and grabbed a 2-1 verdict.

Washington held onto a flimsy lead over the Athletics when they grabbed a double header off the Boston Red Sox. The first game traveled ten frames before the Senators attack materialized. Joe Harris, Washington first sacker, hit a home run in the tenth with a man on base and took the decision. The second game was a hitting melee for the Senatorial combine.

Babe Ruth continued in the role of clout yesterday and hit his third home run in two days running his total to six for the year. The Athletics gathered the verdict over the Yanks despite the return of Ruth to the game.

Charles Hartnett of the Cubs crashed the fence boards twice with prodigious swats yesterday, bringing his season string of four ply whacks to 19.

POWER COMPANY

GRABS FLAG

The Alabama Power company settled the claim for the city title yesterday afternoon at Malone park without having to exert themselves. The Decatur team failed to put in an appearance and the game was forfeited to the Power company 9-0.

The Power people end the season with a string of seven wins and two defeats. One of their defeats was over the forfeiture rout to the Louisville & Nashville.

RALSTONITES PLAY FOURTH

The Ralston Independent team will engage in the only official tilt of the Fourth of July at 10 o'clock Saturday morning when they battle the Hartsville Independent team. The local outfit has been bolstered to some extent with the addition of other league players and the game promises to be interesting.

WATER MELON CUTTING
A watermelon cutting will be the feature of the evening at the Valley Country club when members will gather on the lawn to close the activities of the glorious Fourth. No notification has been sent to individuals and President Rountree announced today that all members are invited to attend. Music will follow the lawn festivity.
